One-day format to take Midlands Machinery Show into the future

Welcome to the 10th Anniversary of the Midlands Machinery Show!

For the past decade, the Midlands Machinery Show has proudly established itself as the ultimate agricultural business event in the region, connecting farmers, manufacturers, suppliers, and industry experts.

We welcome more than 200 exhibitors to showcase their latest products, services and machines which have the potential to improve your farming operation. This year, we have a special programme of events including a great line up of speakers for the National Farmers' Union's Environment Conference, with the latest thinking in terms of water capture, storage, abstraction and flood prevention being covered.

Additionally, we're pleased to bring back the Transport Hub, where industry experts will be on hand to talk about transport-related issues and provide advice. Also returning, is the Rural Crime Prevention Hub, alongside our Drop-in Health Hub where visitors can receive health checks and have private consultations with an experienced nurse in the comfort of the Health Hub trailer.

As we celebrate the shows 10th year milestone, it's important to reflect on how both the industry and the show have evolved over the years. We are continuously listening to the needs of our visitors, who we recognise have less time to be away from their businesses and exhibitors who want to make show attendance as efficient as possible.

In response, I am excited to announce a new chapter for the Midlands Machinery Show. Starting in 2025, the show will move to a one-day format, delivering an even more dynamic and impactful experience for everyone involved.

Mark your calendars for 19th November 2025 – we look forward to welcoming you as we continue to grow, innovate, and support the future of farming.

Thank you for your continued support, and here's to another successful decade!

Bob Sheldon,
Show Chairman
